Help People with Dementia Stay Connected to Lifelong Interests

The Connections Activity Program for People with Dementia is a strength-based intervention that includes tools and step-by-step instructions for matching a person's cognitive function and abilities with activities that are tailored to past interests. With proper support, this program shows how people with dementia can enjoy greatly improved emotional well-being. Also included are detailed case examples and sample intervention guides on how to implement and adapt activities for people with all stages of dementia.
